

DURBANVILLE HERITAGE SOCIETY ERFENISVERENIGING

You are invited to join us for a talk at the Durbanville Library Hall on Saturday 20 May at 14.30 to learn more about

Great South African and African Inventions

Most people know about the dolos
and Kreepy Krawly
but there are many more!

Presented by

Professor Mike Bruton

Mike Bruton is a well-known scientist who specialises in aquatic sciences. Apart from his research interests in ichthyology, aquatic ecology, conservation and indigenous knowledge systems, Professor Bruton has also been involved in the establishment and development of museums, aquaria and science centres in southern Africa. He has published many books and a selection of these will be on sale after the meeting.

Members, friends and people with an interest in science are encouraged to attend!
